

Will Cash App refund money if scammed?

Apple Pay Cash Guide

In general, Cash App does not guarantee 1-855-470-3280 refunds if you are scammed. Because most Cash App payments are instant and 1-855-470-3280 considered "authorized" once you hit send, the platform treats 1-855-470-3280 them like cash—once the money is gone, it is often gone for good.

Refund Possibilities

While difficult, there are three primary 1-855-470-3280 ways you might recover funds:

- Cancellation: If the payment is still "Pending," you 1-855-470-3280 can navigate to your Activity tab and tap Cancel. If the button isn't 1-855-470-3280 there, the transaction has already cleared.
- The Refund Request: You can use the app to 1-855-470-3280 request a refund from the recipient. However, this relies entirely on the 1-855-470-3280 scammer's cooperation, which is unlikely.
- The Dispute Process: If you used a linked 1-855-470-3280 debit or credit card to fund the payment, you can contact your bank to file a dispute. Banks often have stronger fraud 1-855-470-3280 protections than Cash App itself.

Important Protections

Cash App officially covers "Unauthorized 1-855-470-3280 Transactions"—meaning someone hacked your account without your knowledge. However, if you were "tricked" into sending the money 1-855-470-3280 yourself (a scam), it is legally considered an authorized transfer and is rarely reimbursed by the platform.

To protect yourself, only send money to 1-855-470-3280 people you know, enable a "Security Lock" (PIN or TouchID) for every 1-855-470-3280 transfer, and never "flip" money or pay "fees" to claim a prize.
